Charlie and the Chocolate Factory

Something crazy is going to happen now, Charlie thought. But he wasn't frightened. He wasn't even nervous. He was just terrifically excited. And so was Grandpa Joe.

The old man's face was shining with excitement as he watched every move that Mr Wonka made. Mr Wonka was reaching for a button high up on the glass ceiling of the elevator.

Charlie and Grandpa Joe craned their necks to read what it said on the little label beside the button. It said...Up and Out.

Roald Dahl
