Match background

For the second UEFA Champions League tie running Manchester United face an away second leg having been beaten at home as Ole Gunnar Solskjær returns to the scene of his most famous triumph with Barcelona holding the upper hand.

- An early own goal from United defender Luke Shaw – the 14th Barcelona have benefited from in the UEFA Champions League, equalling the competition record – proved enough to separate the teams at Old Trafford. It was Barcelona's first win in seven away knockout games (D2 L4) and only their second goal in that period.
- While the Catalan giants have won the last three meetings between the sides, a run that includes the UEFA Champions League finals of 2009 and 2011, United have won both previous two-legged contests.
- United produced a memorable away display to retrieve their round of 16 tie against Paris Saint-Germain and reach the quarter-finals for the first time since 2013/14. Barcelona ultimately cruised through their last-16 contest against Lyon en route to an unprecedented 12th successive last-eight appearance – although their last three UEFA Champions League campaigns have all ended at this stage.
- United won their second European Cup at the Camp Nou, coming from a goal down to beat Bayern München 2-1 in the 1999 final with two added-time goals – substitute Solskjær scoring the winner.

Previous meetings

- While there is little between the sides overall, United recording three victories to Barcelona's five in their 12 meetings, the Spanish side have won the last three fixtures – the first two on the biggest club stage of all.
- The 2009 UEFA Champions League final in Rome went Barça's way thanks to a goal in each half from Samuel Eto'o and Lionel Messi. Two years later, Messi scored in between goals from Pedro Rodríguez and David Villa as Barcelona ran out 3-1 victors at Wembley, Wayne Rooney with United's only response.
- Gerard Piqué and Sergio Busquets joined Messi in Barcelona's line-up for both finals with United coach Michael Carrick in the opposing team for both games and Antonio Valencia appearing in 2011, when Chris Smalling was an unused substitute.
- United did get the better of Barcelona in the 2007/08 UEFA Champions League semi-finals, Paul Scholes scoring the only goal of the tie in the Old Trafford second leg after United's Cristiano Ronaldo had missed an early penalty at the Camp Nou.
- Barça have never lost at home to United (W2 D2), although the last two fixtures have both been draws.
- Barcelona inflicted United's heaviest UEFA Champions League defeat, a 4-0 reverse at the Camp Nou in the 1994/95 group stage in which Hristo Stoichkov scored twice.
- United beat Barcelona in the 1991 European Cup Winners' Cup final in Rotterdam, former Barça striker Mark Hughes scoring both goals in a 2-1 win.

- Twelve months ago Barcelona looked set for the semi-finals after a 4-1 home win against Roma, only for a 3-0 away defeat to end their campaign on away goals and inflict a third successive last-eight loss. Barcelona won the home leg in two of those three ties, drawing the other.
- Barcelona have encountered English opponents already this season, taking four points off Tottenham Hotspur in the group stage thanks to a 4-2 away success and a 1-1 home draw on matchday six.
- The first-leg win made it one defeat in their last 14 European games against English clubs for Barça, who have won ten of those fixtures. They beat Chelsea 4-1 on aggregate in last season's round of 16 (1-1 away, 3-0 home).
- Their overall home record against English clubs is W20 D11 L2. They have been victorious in seven of the last nine at the Camp Nou (D2).
- Barcelona have won 14 of their 24 two-legged ties with English clubs. The 2012 semi-final defeat by Chelsea is the only reverse in their last eight contests, all in the UEFA Champions League knockout phase.
- That defeat at Roma is Barcelona's sole loss in their last 20 UEFA Champions League fixtures (W12 D7). They beat Lyon 5-1 at home in the second leg of this season's round of 16 and by the same aggregate scoreline.
- Barcelona won both home games in last season's knockout rounds, and are unbeaten in 12 knockout games at the Camp Nou (W10 D2), since a 3-0 loss to Bayern München in the 2012/13 semi-final second leg.
- Ernesto Valverde's side won their first two home games in this season's group stage, beating PSV Eindhoven 4-0 and Internazionale 2-0 before a 1-1 draw with Tottenham.
- Barcelona are unbeaten in 30 UEFA Champions League home matches, a run that started in September 2013 (W27 D3); the defeat of Lyon eclipsed the previous competition record of 29 set by Bayern München between March 1998 and April 2002.
- Barcelona need four more goals to score 500 in the UEFA Champions League – a milestone reached by just one other club, Real Madrid.
- Spanish champions for the 25th time – and third in four years – in 2017/18, Barcelona have been European champions on five occasions, most recently in 2015.
- Barcelona have progressed 36 out of the 38 times they won the away first leg in UEFA competition, most recently against Arsenal in the 2015/16 round of 16. One of those two failures came after a 1-0 away win, against Köln in the 1980/81 UEFA Cup second round (0-4 home); the other was against Metz in the 1984/85 European Cup Winners' Cup first round (4-2 away, 1-4 home). Seven of those aggregate victories came after a 1-0 first-leg away win, most recently against Schalke in the 2007/08 UEFA Champions League quarter-final.
- Barcelona's record in six UEFA penalty shoot-outs is W5 L1:
5-4 v Lech Poznań, 1988/89 European Cup Winners' Cup second round
0-2 v Steaua, 1985/86 European Champion Clubs' Cup final
5-4 v IFK Göteborg, 1985/86 European Champion Clubs' Cup semi-final

1956/67 Athletic Club W 6-5 (3-5 a, 3-0 h)

- United's first 12 UEFA Champions League quarter-finals all came with Sir Alex Ferguson as manager; their most recent, the 2014 defeat by Bayern, was overseen by David Moyes.
- United engineered a stunning turnaround in the round of 16, overturning a 2-0 home defeat against Paris Saint-Germain with a 3-1 win in France to progress on away goals – only the fourth time a team had come back from losing the home first leg in the UEFA Champions League era and the first to do so following a two-goal first-leg loss.
- The Red Devils have already played Spanish opposition in this season's competition, following a goalless draw at home to Valencia on matchday two with a 2-1 loss at Mestalla in their final group game.
- This season's results against Valencia and Barcelona mean United have now won just two of their last 16 matches against Spanish clubs (D6 L8) – and none of the last seven (D3 L4). United have, however, lost only twice in their last ten visits to Spain (W2 D6).
- In 2017/18 United's campaign was ended by Spanish opponents, Sevilla winning 2-1 in the round of 16 second leg at Old Trafford to progress by the same aggregate scoreline.
- United's record in two-legged ties against Spanish clubs is W6 L8.
- United won their first two away matches in Group H this season, at Young Boys (3-0) and Juventus (2-1), before losing at Valencia. They have been beaten in only two of their last 13 European away games (W8 D3), with just eight goals conceded during that period; the Valencia contest is the only time they shipped more than one in that sequence.
- Nevertheless, United have lost just seven of their last 29 European matches, home and away (W17 D5); the losses to Valencia and Paris were the first time they have suffered successive defeats since November/December 2012.
- The round of 16 was Solskjær's first tie in the UEFA Champions League proper as a coach; he oversaw eight qualifiers while in charge of Molde (W3 D4 L1). He took the Norwegian club into the UEFA Europa League group stage in 2012/13, and into the round of 32 of that competition three years later.
- The last-16 tie against Paris was the first time United had come back from a first-leg home defeat to win the tie in UEFA competition, after three previous defeats. Two of those aggregate losses came after a 1-0 first-leg reverse, against Bayern München in the 2000/01 quarter-finals (1-2 away) and AC Milan in the 2004/05 round of 16 (0-1 away).
- United's record in three UEFA penalty shoot-outs is W1 L2:
6-5 v Chelsea, 2007/08 UEFA Champions League final
3-4 v Torpedo Moskva, 1992/93 UEFA Cup first round
4-5 v Videoton, 1984/85 UEFA Cup quarter-finals
